REVIEW: PROPHETS AND KINGS OF JUDAH'S DECLINE

GOLDEN TEXT.—I have loved thee with an everlasting love, therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Stories Retold.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Learning to Serve God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—True and False Leaders.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God's True Prophets.

The quarterly review always brings its problems. No set method can be prescribed. The grade, the aptitude of the pupils and the genius of the teacher are determining factors of the problem. For seniors and adults, two methods are suggested.

I. Character Study of the Kings and Prophets of the Period.

Biography is always fascinating and profitable. In the use of this method, assignments should be made a week ahead. As to the kings of this period, a study should be made of their strong and weak points, and suitable lessons be drawn from them. As to the prophets, the nature of the ministry of each should be studied.

II. The Summary Method.

This method involves the terse statement of the salient facts of each lesson with its central teaching. This method, to be effective, calls for assignments to be made a week in advance. Different minds will greatly vary. The following statements are offered as suggestions:

Lesson for April 7.

Either at the beginning of Isaiah's ministry or later when called to a deeper experience, he had a vision of the majesty and holiness of the living God. The leading lesson is that a real sight of the living God discloses the sinfulness of man.

Lesson for April 14.

In leading the people back to God Hezekiah proclaimed a passover. The passover was a memorial of the nation's deliverance through the shedding of the blood of a sacrificial lamb. Tile lamb typified Christ. The only way for a sinning and divided people to get back to God and be united is around the crucified Lord.

Lesson for April 21.

Isaiah sought to comfort the people by assuring them that the Lord God as the Messiah was coming to reign over the earth, and deliver them from bondage, and shepherd them. The only possible deliverance from the world is the coming of Jesus Christ and the establishment of His Kingdom.

Lesson for April 28.

Salvation of God's people was to be accomplished through the suffering of their Messiah. At Christ's first coming He suffered the penalty of our sin. His suffering resulted in a spiritual progeny. Life out of death is the law governing the universe—natural and spiritual.

Lesson for May 5.

While the temple was in process of renovation, the law of God was found and read to the king. This brought great disturbance to his mind as he realized the enormity of the nation's sins. God's Word has power to convict of sin and effect a revival.

Lesson for May 12.

God called Jeremiah before he was born, overcame his timidity, and sent him to warn his people of coming judgment. Though violently opposed and persecuted, God delivered him.

Lesson for May 19.

Jeremiah called the people to obedience to God's Word. The only way to avert God's judgment is to return unto Him and render obedience.

Lesson for May 26.

God will restore Israel to Palestine. Israel will return and possess the land. Jesus Christ will then come and enter into a new covenant, writing the law of God in their hearts.

Lesson for June 2.

Because Jeremiah faithfully declared God's law, he was hated and cast into a dungeon. Those who faithfully declare God's law shall suffer.

Lesson for June 9.

The Rechabites set of filial loyalty to their father abstained from the use of wine. Jeremiah gave them a public test as an example to Judah. Obedience to earthly fathers brings blessings, but obedience to God brings greater blessings.

Lesson for June 16.

Judah went into captivity according to God's Word, which cannot fail.

Lesson for June 23.

Psalm 103 is entirely devoted to praise to God. Those who have experienced the life of God in the soul will bless Him with all their being.

God Knows All

I will govern my life and thoughts as if the whole world were to see the one and to read the other, for what does it signify to make anything a secret to my neighbor, when to God, who is the searcher of our hearts, all our privacies are open?—Seneca.

Religion Is Necessary

Education without religion is worth very little, just as cleverness without character is very barren.—Ald. Lee Pe Down.

LABORATORIES TO SHAPE BOYS' LIVES

School Will Test Aptitudes by Freedom.

New York.—As a means of testing the theory, long held by educators, that if a boy were allowed access to the paraphernalia of a number of trades and professions he would choose the one for which he was best fitted, $300,000 will be spent at Hill School for Boys, Pottstown, Pa.

This sum, for a new science building, was given to the institution by Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, who donated the famous Widener library to Harvard as a memorial to her son, drowned on the Titanic.

It is the hope of the authorities of the school that by placing at the disposal of the students various laboratories, work rooms and study halls in which will be placed all kinds of apparatus, the students, after roaming through all of them and stopping to familiarize themselves with each, will find, by natural processes, the fields for which they are best fitted.

To this end the new science building will have all sorts of laboratories in which a student may carry on any experiments that strike his fancy. There will be a chemistry group where boys can claim an individual room if they are interested in this line. On the top floor will be a miniature observatory with a telescope.

In the basement of the building will be all manner of heavy machinery for boys who are mechanically inclined. Radio and photographic laboratories also will be provided.

The room about which most interest doubtless will center will be the aviation room. In this space will be tools, instructions and literature for use in building model planes which will fly under their own power.

PAINS In Side and Back

"I had been miserable for a long time. My back was weak, sore, and I suffered a lot from weakness. At times, my strength was so little that I could not stand on my feet. I would have to give up and go to bed. My side and back hurt dreadfully.

"I grew discouraged, for I could do so little. I worried about myself, and almost gave up hope of ever being well as well. I could scarcely lift a bucket of water. My limbs were sore and numb, for I was not strong enough to do it.

"After I had taken Cardui for a little while, I began to feel better. I grew stronger, soon found that I could do my work with less effort, and the pains in my back and sides left me. I think Cardui is a wonderful medicine. My health has been excellent since then."—Mrs. J. W. Beckner, W. Main St., Salem, Va.

BRITAIN TO TEST NEW DIRIGIBLES

One Will Visit Canada, Other Goes to Egypt.

London.—The world's latest and most expensive experiment in aircraft construction will be given its first test soon when gas is blown into the bags of the R-100 and the R-101, Great Britain's new 84,000,000 airships.

Sir Samuel Heare, British air minister, recently announced in the house of commons that the two new airships would make flights to Canada and India in the fall if the trial flights were successful. Air experts of the world perked up their ears at this announcement for Great Britain's failure in these two ventures may mean death for future airship construction.

The R-100, the air ministry has decided, will go to Canada, while the R-101 will make the first long flight to India and Egypt, where arrangements already have been made for handling the ship. It is understood here that the R-100 might include the United States in its itinerary if Washington extends an invitation.

But so far Sir Samuel has refused to divulge when the shed tests and first trial flights will be held. Previous delays, and subsequent questionings in parliament, have made him cautious. It was learned, however, that the bags will be filled some time in June, after which the first local flights will be made.

The construction of these two 5,000,000 cubic feet gas-filled airships is rapidly nearing completion after innumerable delays occasioned by changes in plans and the addition of many new devices which never before have been employed on giant airships. The R-101, in particular, represents several radical departures in the construction of the steel frame and in the arrangement of the interior.

As the R-100 is fitted with ordinary petrol engines, it was selected for the flight to America, whereas the R-101, equipped with Diesel engines, is more suited to the warm atmosphere which will be encountered on the flight to India and Egypt.

Pope Limits Use of New Vatican Money

Rome.—Officials of Vatican City will continue to receive their salaries in Italian money after the papal government's new money is issued, it was understood.

The papacy's own silver and gold coins will be few and their use limited.

Gold coins of 20 lire value and silver coins of 5 lire value (about $1.05 and 26 cents, respectively) are planned.

The coins will be used to purchase Vatican City stamps, to pay entrance fees to the art galleries and to the holy congregations, especially to the congregation of sacraments in cases of annulled marriages.

Robber Splits Loot So Creditors Can Get Pay

San Francisco, Calif.—Kind heartedness of a robber mixed with the cronies of Hermen Krieger reflected satisfactorily upon the latter's creditors.

Krieger told police a man came into his home, drew a pistol, and forced him to give up $85. He said he pleaded with the man not to take all the money because he had to meet some bills.

"All right, guy," the robber answered; "we'll split it."

Then he counted out $42.50 and gave it back to Krieger.

The next day the creditors got their money.

Gives Away Old Shoe With Diamonds in Toe

San Francisco, Calif.—The fun started when Mrs. A. J. Jadig discovered her husband had hidden her diamond ring and his diamond stickpin in an old shoe—the old shoe she gave to the Salvation Army two days before.

The bought search that followed Mrs. Jadig's discovery surpassed in excitement the annual city Easter egg hunts by far and was prosecuted.

Salvation Army workers found the shoe among thousands of others and, what was better, found the $3,500 worth of jewelry.

Bags for Life Term

Minneapolis.—Raymond Ashley told Judge E. A. Montgomery he had proved a failure at everything, including being a burglar, and asked for a life sentence so he would have something to eat every day. The judge agreed.

$15,000 Frogs Are Loot in Robbery

Toledo.—Police are investigating the robbery, involving two frogs valued at $15,000, is shrouded in mystery.

Dr. Robert Wald, owner of the high-priced amphibians, told police they were stolen from their tank in the rear of his home.

Raised on artificial food and imported from Louisiana, the hoppers were the subjects of an important experiment, intended to prove whether amphibians could be raised in artificial surroundings in sufficient number to warrant commercial investment.

T. R. Martin's Birthday

It was a pleasant surprise to T. R. Martin of Appomattox, when his friends came in honor of his 74th birthday anniversary. There were 56 guests including his sister, Mrs. Tom Moore, his three brothers, Sam Johnnie and Walker Martin, and the following children, Mrs. Clarence Drinkard, Mrs. Royal Coleman, Mrs. Herman Moore, Mrs. Marvin Drinkard and Mrs. Sidney Raymond and Fleming Martin.

All regretted that his son, Otho Martin, was absent on account of sickness. It was also the birthday of Bessie Martin, the granddaughter of T. R. Martin.

A bountiful dinner was served on the lawn. Fleming Martin, being the youngest child, lighted the candles on the birthday cake and all the children joined him in extinguishing them.

After dinner pictures were taken and the grandchildren numbering about 30, enjoyed games on the large lawn, interspersed with lemonade.

Mr. Martin is one of our prominent farmers and all rejoice with him in his good health and hope for him many happy returns of June 16th—his birthday celebration.

Country Refrigeration

A new kind of iceless refrigerator that gets its "power" from kerosene burners just like those on an oil stove is now being shown by The Lynchburg Implement Co. Inc., Lynchburg, Va.

Actually it uses no power, for it has no moving parts. Refrigeration is generated by the heat. The only attention it requires is the lighting of the burners once a day. A bottle holding a little more than a pint of kerosene keeps the burners in operation about one hour and a quarter after which the burners automatically go out, but refrigeration goes on for 24 to 36 hours. It also freezes ice in cubes.

The new refrigerator is known as the "Superfex" and is made by the manufacturer of Perfection oil stoves.

For homes not served by central station power at reasonable cost, this refrigerator furnishes service that compares very favorably with that of electric and gas refrigerators.
